4,977 Answers. Re: 97 grand marquis engine makes a knocking noise. Have the timing checked if its off it could be pre-ignition which some people describe as a knock. if its a heavy knocking noise it could be a piston noise or it may even be a bad crankshaft/connecting rod/bearing. have the oil pressure checked this may help to know what to do. some people describe a rocker noise as a knock but its more like a ticking noise at the top end in the area of the valve covers.
